Tuesday was sunny and warm but not unduly so, as Princeton conferred a total of 1,675 bachelor and advanced degrees in a ceremony that began promptly at 11 a.m. There were 655 men and 437 women in the graduating senior classes. They were awarded 931 bachelor of arts degrees and 161 bachelor of science degrees in engineering. Forty-four percent received some form of honors, with more women than men receiving honors.

The 583 advanced degrees included 244 doctors of philosophy, 216 masters of arts, 64 masters in public affairs, 18 masters of architecture, 36 masters of science in engineering, and five masters of fine arts.

In keeping with tradition, the two principal commencement speeches, the valedictory and Latin salutatory addresses, were delivered by members of the graduating class. The valedictorian, Timothy Chow, was a mathematics major from Hong Kong. The salutatorian was Harold S. Reeves, a classics major from Bay Head. Princeton University President Harold T. Shapiro delivered brief remarks at the conclusion of the commencement ceremonies.

Four secondary school teachers received outstanding teacher awards from Princeton University at commencement. The awards, which have been made annually since 1959, include a cash prize for each teacher and a sum for library books for each teacher's school. This year the amounts were $4,000 and $2,000, respectively.

The winners were Linda Fekete of South Brunswick High School, Lois Harrod of Voorhees High School in Glen Gardner, Father Paul Manning of Oratory Catholic Prep School in Summit and Paul Steltz of Haddon Township High School in Westmont.

On Monday, Class Day exercises were held behind Nassau Hall, and several members of the Class of 1991 received special honors. The Class of 1991 Medal for the senior who has done the most for the University went to Christopher "Kit" Mueller, an economics major from Downers Grove, Ill., who wrote his thesis on rent control. Center on the varsity basketball team for four years, he also shared in the William Winston Roper Trophy awarded for "high scholastic rank and outstanding qualities of sportsmanship and general proficiency in athletics."

Heather Gerken, who served as co-chair, project director and board member of the Student Volunteers Council and was Mathey College community service chair as a sophomore, was awarded the Harold Willis Dodds Achievement Award. The award goes to the senior who best embodies the qualities of Princeton's 15th president, "particularly in the qualities of clear thinking, moral courage, a patient and

State May Have No Designs on Rts. 27 & 206, But Committee Passes 2 Resolutions Anyway

At its meeting on Monday, the Planning Board adopted two resolutions intended to carry forward the fight against four-laning Routes 27 and 206.

One resolution requests that the "desirable typical section" developed by the New Jersey Department of Transportation for Route 206 in Princeton Township and Borough and in Lawrence Township from the Princeton border to the southern boundary of The Lawrenceville School be designated as two-lane in the State Highway Access Code and that the road be retained as two lanes. It also asks that the desirable typical section for Route 27 from Kingston all the way to Bayard Lane in the Borough be designated as two lane in the State Highway Access Code and retained as such.

Supporting this resolution are several "whereas" that point out that four-laning these routes would severely impact the quality of the residential neighborhoods and the central business district; that historic districts listed on both the National and State Registers of Historic Places would be affected, along with the Princeton University campus and Princeton Theological Seminary; and that Nassau Street businesses would be "severely adversely impacted."

The other resolution concerns the Harry's Brook bridge on Route 27. It calls for the NJDOT to rehabilitate this bridge rather than replace it and states that if the NJDOT proceeds with the bridge replacement, the replacement width should have 12-foot travel lanes and six-foot shoulders.

Bayard Street, New Brunswick on Thursday, July 18, from 3 to 8.

Some residents suggested trying to get Princeton-Kingston Road — the old King's Highway — designated as an historic site. Township Engineer Robert V. Kiser reported on several strategies proposed by attorney Gerald J. Muller in regard to the widening of Harry's Brook bridge. The bridge is part of the Lake Carnegie historic district, registered on both the National and State Registers of Historic Places.

TOPICS Of the Town

The DOT has informed the Township of its plans to replace the bridge with two 12-foot travel lanes and two 10-foot shoulders, the standard shoulder width. But Township officials and residents fear the 10-foot shoulders could easily be turned into travel lanes, facilitating the feared four-laning of Route 27.

Planning Board Chairwoman Margen Penick said she would send copies of the resolution to Borough Council and Township Committee, and also to neighboring municipalities. She said she had spoken to Gov. Florio at a recent groundbreaking, asking his support in preventing the four-laning from happening. Route 206 goes right past Drumthwacket, the governor's mansion, it was noted.

Devastate Neighborhoods

Meanwhile, Township Mayor Richard Woodbridge has written a strongly worded letter to the DOT Commissioner Tom Downs stating the Township's opposition to four-laning Routes 27 and 206 on the grounds that it would "devastate" residential neighborhoods and that there is no demand for four lanes.

About 75 residents came to a Township Committee meeting last Wednesday to express their opposition to the four-laning and to the widening of the Harry's Brook bridge and to suggest various tactics. Petitions and attendance at public hearings on the State Highway Access Code were among the suggestions. The two hearings closest to Princeton are the one at the NJDOT headquarters at 1035 Parkway Avenue in Trenton on Tuesday, July 9, from 3 to 8 and the one at the New Brunswick Public Library, 78

Assembly Approves Living Will

The State Assembly has given overwhelming approval to a bill that would allow State residents full discretion over whether they want life support to be continued in the case of terminal illness. Already amended by Assembly committees, the measure will now be sent to the State Senate for amendment approvals before going to Gov. Jim Florio for consideration.

Passage in the Senate will be just a formality, said Sen. Gabriel Ambrosio, D-Lyndhurst, the bill's sponsor. The Governor is expected to sign the measure.

Under the legislation, New Jerseyans would be given three options: leaving written instructions, appointing a proxy to make the decision, or a combination of the two.

Although living wills are currently legal in New Jersey, a court must decide their validity if they are challenged. Also doctors are not legally protected if they withhold life-sustaining treatment. Under the Assembly bill, doctors would receive complete immunity from legal action if they withhold artificial life support in accordance with a living will.

Aid to Jobless

Some 175,000 New Jersey workers who have exhausted their unemployment insurance would have their benefits extended for 6½ weeks under plans announced by the Florio administration and legislative leaders. The plan carries a $250 million price tag.

The Governor said about 12,000 State residents are running out of benefits each month, up from an average of 6,000 residents per month in 1988.

Funds for the benefit extension would come from the State's Unemployment Insurance Trust Fund.

The program would be retroactive as of March 31, 1991, and would end March 31, 1992, at the latest. New Jersey's current unemployment rate is 6.8 percent, according to the State Department of Labor, up from 4.4 percent a year ago.

Electronic Payment

The State Assembly has passed a measure that would establish an electronic benefit distribution system for food stamp and most welfare payments. Under the bill, the money would be deposited into a bank and recipients would be issued a card similar to those for automated teller systems.

According to the measure's supporters, such a system would reduce red tape and cut down on crime that results when recipients are issued welfare or food stamp checks at the beginning of each month.

The bill will now be sent to the Senate for consideration.

Freedom of Speech for Students

A measure its supporters say would guarantee freedom of speech and expression to public school students who write for yearbooks, newspapers, bulletin boards, and other distributed material has been approved by the State Assembly.

The bill would forbid school officials from blocking publication of material unless it is "obscene, libelous, slanderous, or would violate the rights of others or disrupt school operations."

Mr. Muller suggested the Township use the federal historic preservation review process known as the 106 process for a particular section of the National Historic Preservation Act to make sure that all the historic preservation issues are addressed in the Harry's Brook bridge project. The act mandates special historic preservation review for projects that receive federal funds.

According to the NJDOT, all construction costs for the bridge replacement will be state monies, but Mr. Muller believes a case can be made that there is a commingling of state and federal funds in the operation of the NJDOT, and since NJDOT personnel are doing the design work, federal funds are involved. He also thinks the fact that federal permits for wetlands and stream encroachment would entitle the project to section 106 review.

Commissioner Downs has written the Township in response to a letter from Mayor Woodbridge rejecting the idea that section 106 process applies but not responding to the commingling argument or the point pertaining to federal permits. Taking a different approach, Mr. Muller suggests trying to get the federal highway administrator to instruct the DOT to begin the section 106 review, or if that fails getting the Advisory Commission on Historic Preservation to write both the federal and state transportation departments saying that a section 106 process applies to this project.

Request Impact Study?

Taking another tack, Mr. Muller suggests that the Township request documentation from the NJDOT on all the permits that it will need pertaining to wetlands and stream encroachment, historic and environmental impacts. He suggests that the Township inquire as to an environmental impact study, such as required for all "major Federal action signifi-

Mr. Muller notes that "While there are issues as to whether the bridge project is a federal action to begin with and whether it can be described as major, we should emphasize that the bridge is a component of a broader plan and that it should be assessed in that context."

—Barbara L. Johnson

Finally, he recommends participation in the Highway Access Code hearings, meeting with legislators with respect to both the Harry's Brook bridge and the four-laning of Route 27 and Routes 206, and direct contact with Gov. Florio on these matters.

The residents at last Wednesday's Committee meeting were ready and eager to take part in all of the above.

School Administrators' Negotiations to Resume

After a two-month hiatus, salary negotiations between the Princeton Regional Board of Education and the Princeton Regional Administrators' Association resumed this week.

The negotiations came to a halt when Board members turned their attention to the 1991-92 school budget, which was defeated by voters, and then to the meetings with Borough Council and Township Committee that led to a revised budget.

The administrators bound by a new contract do not include Superintendent of Schools Carol Choye. The Board historically negotiates salary with her after an agreement is reached with the administrators' union.

Corinne Kyle, head of the Board negotiating team, described this week's meeting as "positive." No time was set for the next meeting.

The School Board's last business meeting of the 1990-91 school year is scheduled for Thursday, June 20. If no contract agreement is reached by then, said Ms. Kyle, the matter will be brought back to the Board in the fall.

Current administrative salaries include, Assistant Superintendent Bob Rader, $86,633; Supervising Principal John Sakala, $82,776; Director of Student Services Charles Huchet, $72,995; Director of Personnel Fay Hunsinger, $72,995; and Manager of Facilities William Karch, $69,116.

Focus Is on Felines At Council Meeting

Cats should be treated the same as dogs, stated Councilman Roger Martindell at last week's Borough Council meeting. Cats — and to a lesser degree dogs — were the subject of discussion as Council members expressed concern over the growing problem of rabies in the area. Vaccinating the cat population is becoming a priority, as worries over the fatal disease intensify.

Rabid raccoons, including one in Princeton Borough, have been reported in the area over the last year, according to Princeton Regional Health Officer William Hinshillwood.

"The rabies problem has slowly been making its way toward Princeton," he reported.

Although dogs have been required to be vaccinated and licensed since the 1940s (because of a high incidence of rabies at the time), cats were never subject to this regulation. Now, however, Mr. Hinshillwood said the Princeton Regional Health Commission had studied two cat licensing/inoculation ordinances.

A state ordinance is similar to the dog licensing regulations and would require cats to be vaccinated and registered annually. The other ordinance under consideration is one instituted in Montgomery Township, which requires inoculation and certification from a veterinarian, but not licensing. If the state ordinance were adopted, cat owners would be required to get a license from the Borough, at a fee ranging from $5 to $10. In addition, animal control officers would canvass the area, searching for unlicensed cats.

An ordinance similar to the Montgomery Township law simply requires proof of vaccination. If a cat is picked up by animal officers, and no proof is available, a summons would be issued, and the owner could face a fee of $5 to $200.

Council members agreed that vaccination should become mandatory, but what kind of ordinance would be most effective and easiest to administer was a factor. Cats are harder to track down than dogs and finding unlicensed cats is difficult, noted Mr. Hinshillwood.

Councilman Martindell, who is especially concerned over the possibility of small children being bitten by an infected cat, pushed for the licensing law. "If we did it with the dogs, we can do it for cats. I don't see any difference," he commented.

A draft ordinance will be introduced at next week's meeting.

In other business, Council approved resolutions to authorize the Tax Assessor to file tax appeals on behalf of the Borough, and to authorize a Professional Services Agreement for engineering and construction management services in connection with the reconstruction of Palmer Square and Witherspoon Street.

In addition, resolutions were adopted approving a Professional Services Agreement with the Princeton Medical Center to provide sexually transmitted disease clinic services, and to approve a Professional Services Agreement with the Medical Center to furnish nursing services in connection with home health care visits.

In response to a letter from a disgruntled Borough resident, who referred to Collins Corporation's and the Nassau Inn's unpaid taxes, and also to the unsightly debris along Paul Robeson Place, Mayor Marvin Reed said the Borough intends to take advantage of a new state law which will permit the

Regarding the situation at Paul Robeson Place, he said Borough Engineer Carl Peters has issued a formal soil conservation complaint. The Mayor also discussed the possibility of the Borough cleaning up the area and charging the owner of the property. "At some point, we'll have to take action and make it happen," he remarked.

Council also approved the appointment of Borough resident Mark Citron as Prosecutor.

Student Is Assaulted Near Prospect Gardens

There has been a second assault on the Princeton University campus within the past two weeks, this one involving a 21-year-old Princeton University student, as he was walking near Prospect Gardens.

Police report the victim was walking on the south side of Prospect Gardens shortly before midnight Thursday when he was approached by four men. The four were acting in a rowdy manner, the victim told police. The group split in two, passing on either side of the victim.

One of the four, police said, turned and struck the victim from behind with his fist before the group ran off. The victim was knocked to the ground and dazed. He walked to nearby McCosh Infirmary, and was then taken to Princeton Medical Center where ten sutures were needed to close a laceration above his left eye.

All the suspects were described as black males in their 20's. One was described as a muscular six-footer with a box haircut. A second, also six-feet tall, wore a hooded sweat shirt.

A week ago, a 38-year-old Somerset resident was grabbed from behind, forced against the side of Firestone Library by an assailant, and robbed of his wallet containing $150.

3rd Incident of Lewdness In Princeton Township

A third incident of open lewdness in the Township within the last month was reported this week by Township police. Three different suspects are involved.

In the most recent, a 47-year-old Township resident was riding her bicycle last Wednesday evening at 6:30 on Henry Avenue near Jefferson when a car drove up. It slowly follow-

Westminster Choir/Rider to Announce Merger

Westminster Choir College and Rider College are expected to announce an affiliation or merger of the two institutions at a press conference Thursday at 11 a.m. The announcement will be made in Williamson Hall on the Westminster Choir College campus.

According to Earle Rommel, director of public information at Rider College, the Rider board of trustees has approved the administration's recommendation for "affiliation and eventual merger" with Westminster. The Westminster trustees have not yet ratified this proposal, Mr. Rommel said, although in April they voted to pursue studying the feasibility of an affiliation with Rider.

Westminster has actively been conducting a fund-raising campaign to overcome a $750,000 deficit in its 1990-91 budget along with studying the possibility of merging with another institution. Among the institutions that have been considered are Drew University in Madison, Princeton Theological Seminary, and Yale.

Westminster's fiscal plight prompted the president, William J. Fuller, to step down in the fall of 1990, sooner than he had planned, saying he was not the right person to lead the college out of its financial problems. Keith Spalding, former president of Franklin & Marshall College in Lancaster, Pa., who had been serving as a consultant to the Westminster board, took over as acting executive officer. Mr. Spalding is expected to be on hand for the announcement on Thursday, along with Barton Luedke, the Rider College president.

Westminster is a music school with about 350 undergraduate and graduate students enrolled in a variety of programs leading to careers primarily in music education and directing church music programs. It was initiated by the director of a church choir in Dayton, Ohio and is known for the excellence of its performing choirs.

The Westminster campus consists of 23 acres off Hamilton Avenue, the operating budget is about $8.6 million, and the endowment is about $5 million.

Rider College was founded in 1865 as Trenton Business College and moved to Lawrence Township in the late 1950s-early 1960s. It has a 340-acre campus, a $52 million budget and an endowment of about $40 million. Enrollment is 5,600 full- and part-time undergraduate and graduate students.

ed alongside the cyclist. When she turned to her left, she observed the exposed genitals of the driver.

The victim, Lt. Mario Musso said, continued home and notified police. Police, he said, have a description of the driver and the car but Lt. Musso said he did not want to give it out because of the ongoing investigation.

Arrested in Dorm Room; Had Drugs in Possession

Twenty-four-year-old Keith Green of Bradley Court has been charged with possession of less than 50 grams of marijuana, after he was arrested early Sunday morning in Pyne Hall on campus.

Green, who faces a hearing in Borough court on Monday, was subdued and arrested by Proctor Lloyd Best. Best and other proctors were on a security patrol during reunion weekend when he was approached by someone who told him that a passenger in a car stopped

He investigated and discovered Green who allegedly tried to discard a baggie containing marijuana. When Green attempted to flee, he was grabbed and subdued and later turned over to Borough police.

Early Thursday morning, Ptl. Daniel Brown stopped a car for weaving over the double line on Nassau Street. As the officer then approached the car's window, he smelled marijuana smoke inside.

A subsequent search uncovered a film canister containing marijuana and a three-inch pipe under the front seat. That led to charges of possession of less than 50 grams of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia against the driver, Mark Laman, 27, of Philadelphia. Laman is due in Borough court on Monday.

Cocaine Charge

A passenger in a car stopped Friday evening in the Borough was later charged with possession of crack cocaine.

The passenger, Robert W. Hansbury Jr., 20, of Conover Avenue, Ewing, was also charged with possession of cocaine with intent to distribute and possession of drug paraphernalia. He faces action by a Mercer County Grand Jury.

The driver of the car, a 17-year-old juvenile from Prospect Street, Ewing Township, has been charged with possession of crack cocaine and possession of stolen property — a dealer's license plate found in the trunk of the car which, police said, had been stolen from a used car dealer on Calhoun Street in Trenton. He faces action by a juvenile court.

Their car was stopped by Ptl. Robert Currier at 10:30 after the officer first observed it turning from Nassau Street onto Witherspoon. The car's engine was loud and racing. The car was bucking back and forth as if it had no muffler, police said. And it was moving in an erratic manner.

An initial computer check though police are not sure if it revealed the driver was wanted was broken by flying debris or in Ewing Township on a contempt of court warrant. Ptl. Currier then found, under the front seat, a baggie containing several chunks of a substance believed to be cocaine, a number of empty plastic bags and some rolling papers.

Electrical service at 9 Palmer Square West was disrupted until Public Service Electric & Gas repair crews were able to repair the damaged cables. They were unable to say what caused the explosion.

Truck, Window Damaged By Flying Manhole Cover

The fender of a parked pickup truck and a Palmer Square store window were damaged last week by a flying manhole cover in an unusual incident.

An apparent electrical short circuit underneath the sidewalk in front of the Competitive Sport store at 11:20 Sunday morning triggered an explosion. A concrete cover over the manhole was sent flying in the air. It came down on a pickup truck owned by Cosmo Tamasi, 57, of the Township, leaving a 20-inch dent. Mr. Tamasi was not in the truck at the time.

A 3-by-5-foot window of the store was also shattered, al-

Molotov Cocktail Found On University Campus

A University maintenance worker last week found what he thought was a Molotov Cocktail standing upright against a column in the plaza area between Jadwyn and Fine Halls.

University security called Township police to report they had in their possession a quart-size beer bottle half-filled with a liquid that smelled like turpentine. The bottle also contained a nylon string rigged with aluminum foil to serve as a wick.

The bottle had not been burned, Lt. Mario Musso reported. Police, he said, took possession of it and are in the process of having the substance tested. The bottle was found at 10:30 Thursday morning, the day before the start of the annual reunion festivities.

Campus Thefts Increase During Reunion Weekend

There were a number of thefts reported on the University campus during reunion weekend.

A backpack containing a Nikon camera and zoom lens valued at $400 and a checkbook was taken from the living room of the Quadrangle Club where the owner, a resident of Illinois, had left it unattended while asleep. Police report a black male, about 21, six-feet tall, wearing a T-shirt and dark shorts was seen carrying off the bag around 4:15 Saturday morning.

The same black male is a suspect in the theft of a jacket about the same time at the Tower Club. In the jacket were the owner's wallet containing $250 and the wallet of a friend containing $55.

In one of two thefts at Little Hall, a radio and 15 compact discs worth a combined $700 were stolen overnight from a dorm room. Early Saturday morning, a thief entered Little Hall through an open window and from another dorm room took a CD player, CD discs, a Walkman, wristwatch, $20 cash and credit cards. Total value of all the items: $620.

Around 12:15 Sunday morning, police were notified of the theft of six T-shirts, an electric calendar, a checkbook and several reunion buttons worth a combined $280 from a room in Edwards Hall.

At 2:05, University proctors called police to say they had a highly-intoxicated person in their custody in Edwards Hall who refused to leave.

Police charged Giles C. Anderson, 18, of Scott Avenue, Princeton Junction, with defiant trespass, resisting arrest and disorderly conduct. According to Chief Thomas Michaud, when police arrived, Anderson was abusive to the officers, shouted profanities, and struggled and fought with them. He was subdued, taken to headquarters and charged.

Earlier in the week, someone entered Little Hall by way of an unlocked window. Approximately 80 compact discs valued at $1,375 were stolen from a five-student suite.

The black handbag of a University employee was stolen during morning hours last week from an unlocked cabinet in an office in Palmer Hall. The bag was recovered the next day in a trash can in Jones Hall, intact except for $90 that was in a wallet.

Two Pioneer stereo car speakers valued at $100 and a $100 radar detector were stolen from the car of an employee of the Nassau Inn while the car, a 1979 Olds, was parked overnight in the Hulfish Street garage. Police report a coat hanger was used to unlock the door.

Three bicycles were stolen during the weekend from an unlocked shed in the rear yard of a College Road home. Stolen were a Schwinn 10-speed valued at $400 and a Dunalt 3-speed and a child's white Rallye model, the latter two valued at $50 each.

Three more bikes were taken in the Borough. A $280, 15-speed gray mountain bike was stolen overnight from the front porch of a Park Place home where it had been left unlocked; a red, Univega mountain bike, valued at $450 and locked to itself, was taken from in front of the Ivy Club — police received a report of the theft on

Free Rabies Clinic

The Health Department will sponsor a free rabies immunization clinic for cats and dogs on Saturday from 10 to noon. The clinic will be held at the Township Public Works Garage, Valley Road and Route 206.

Cats should be contained in a carrier or a box and dogs must be on a leash.

Friday, a week after it was stolen — and a boy's Schwinn 10-speed worth an estimated $80 was taken from the basement of a home on North Harrison Street. Entry was gained through an unlocked exterior cellar door.

Shoplifter Nabbed

Last week, clerks at H. Gross & Company on Palmer Square provided police with a description of a suspect who has just shoplifted a pair of $120 beige slacks.

Ptl. Chris Quaste spotted the suspect a few minutes later on Witherspoon Street. Upon seeing the officer, the suspect fled down the street into the Public Library. Ptl. Quaste, joined by Ptl. Vincent DeMartino, chased the suspect through the library and apprehended him on the second floor.

Charged with shoplifting was William L. Pittman, 33, of New Brunswick. The slacks were recovered and returned to the store.

Township police listed one theft but it was a sizeable one. Between 9:50 Friday evening and 7 the next morning someone used a steel fence post to pry open a wooden door of a storage building on the grounds of Palmer Stadium.

Stolen was a Bunton mower valued at $3,000, a John Deere edger worth $400 and a $400 leaf blower.

PU Infirmary Auxiliary Honors Retiring Head

The board of directors of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Isabella McCosh Infirmary at Princeton University used the annual meeting last week as an opportunity to express their appreciation of the retiring director of Health Services at Princeton. Carin M. Laughlin, president of the Auxiliary, presented Dr. Louis A. Pyle Jr. with a colored drawing of the Infirmary by Anne Gross of Pennington.

"In his two decades at the University Lou Pyle has overseen important changes," said Ms. Laughlin at the meeting. "He made sure that the infirmary was responsive to changing cultural values. Under his direction the role of Health Services expanded to encompass all of the needs of the University community. Thanks to his administration we now offer sophisticated mental health services, occupational medicine, and drug and alcohol education. We will certainly miss him."

Dr. Pyle earned his M.D. from the College of Physicians and Surgeons at Columbia University after graduating from Princeton University in 1941. He came to the University Health Services in 1971 following a career as a pediatrician in private practice.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Isabella McCosh Infirmary was organized by women of the Princeton community under the leadership of Isabella McCosh, wife of the University President James McCosh, in 1902, to enhance the quality of medical care for students at university. Founding members included Mrs. Alan Marquand and Mrs. Junius Morgan.

Over the years the auxiliary has raised funds for the construction of the present infirmary building and for the acquisition of major medical equipment. The Auxiliary also maintains a suite at the infirmary for the parents of students who are seriously ill.

The infirmary provides medical care for students at Princeton University, Princeton Theological Seminary, Westminster Choir College and The Hun School. It will celebrate its centennial in 1992.

New Director Is Named At University Infirmary

Dr. Pamela Bowen will become director of Princeton University's Health Services on August 1.

Dr. Bowen has been medical administrator of the University of Pittsburgh Student Health Service for the past 10 years. Previously she was staff physician at both Pittsburgh and Carnegie-Mellon University. At Pittsburgh she was a member of the Task Force on Alcohol and Other Drug Use, Misuse and Dependency and the AIDS Policy Committee.

Dr. Bowen lived in Princeton for two years when she was college physician at Douglass College's Willets Health Center before moving to Pittsburgh.

A Canadian who is a permanent U.S. resident, she received her 1969 B.Sc. and 1972 M.D. degrees from the University of Toronto. She received an M.P.H. in occupational medicine from Pittsburgh in 1990 with a thesis on "AIDS in the University." A fellow of the American College of Preventive Medicine, she is certified in public health and general preventive medicine by the American Board of Preventive Medicine.

A member of numerous professional organizations, including the American Academy of Family Physicians, Dr. Bowen has been particularly active in the American College Health Association. She serves on its board of directors, chairs the National Association for Foreign Student Affairs/ACHA Joint Committee on Foreign Student Health Care, and co-chairs the Task Force on Campus Violence and Human Dignity.

Dr. Bowen said she looks forward to "the challenge and responsibility of directing a college health service" and expects to be "involved fully in campus life." She said she believes that, in addition to traditional health concerns, "social issues such as racism, sexism, homophobia and general issues of citizenry impact on health." While emphasizing the role of clinical services, she sees a significant role for McCosh Health Center in "education and prevention."

fireman at the scene who sustained a minor leg injury there were no injuries. Set outside the shed's back wall, the blaze burned through that wall, charred the others and a portion of the roof.

Firemen, in responding to the 6:20 alarm Thursday evening, were able to extinguish the fire in about five minutes. They were able to remove three small tractors from the building and prevent them from being burned. However, some small tools, the only other items in the shed, were damaged.

Because of the proximity of the structures in the suspicious fires, investigators believe they may have been set by the same person.

This most recent fire occurred directly across from the site of a vacant barn off Greenwood that was burned on January 10, the first in the series of fires. On May 9, a fire destroyed an abandoned farm house on the Pennington-Rocky Hill Road in Hopewell Township.

On January 23, a fire gutted the Creative Classics business on Railroad Place and, in the most spectacular fire, a 10-alarm fire destroyed about three-fourths of the J.C. Van Doren and Sons lumberyard on Model Avenue. That fire was also started in a shed on one side of the yard.

So far, police have not been able to apprehend anyone nor do they have any suspects.

FETE DINNER DANCE: Planning the Santa Fe Fete dinner dance on Friday are, from left, Debbie Gwazda and Laurie Winegar. The event will be held on the University fields, Washington Road. Tickets are $50 per person.

18 Tires Are Punctured In Cars on Campus Lots

Eighteen tires on vehicles parked overnight on five University campus parking lots were punctured last week. Township police report all of the victims were students.

Hardest hit was Lot 23 off Faculty Road where eight tires on seven cars were punctured.

Also targeted were three cars each on Lots 7 and 16, two on Lot 12 and one on Lot 28. Police have no suspects, says Lt. Mario Musso.

Forgotten Wrench Cause Of Car Engine Blaze

The engine compartment of a car was extensively damaged by fire Friday afternoon on Griggs Drive off Cherry Valley Road. Not unusual — but the cause of the fire was.

The driver told police that her car had recently been involved in a slight accident and it needed a new fan. A friend installed the fan but left a wrench on the engine's cylinder head.

According to Lt. Mario Musso, the wrench fell on the battery terminals, causing a spark which ignited the fire. It was put out by Ptl. Robert Buchanan with an extinguisher from his patrol car.

The owner is a resident of Arizona.

Dumpster Dumper Nabbed Charged With Littering

A Rocky Hill resident was caught last week dumping garbage in a dumpster located in Princeton Community Village.

Ronald Tyler, 52, of Knoll Way, has been charged with dumping, a violation of a Township littering ordinance. Scheduled to appear in Township court July 17, Mr. Tyler faces a first offense fine of not less than $50.

Police report he was seen dumping trash in the dumpster Friday afternoon by a PCV maintenance supervisor.

A Costly Night in Court For Three Area Drivers

It was an expensive night in Township court last week for three Princeton area drivers.

On a second offense of driving while his license was revoked, Kelvin A. Russell of 189 Drift Avenue, Lawrenceville, was fined $765, sentenced to one day in the Mercer County Workhouse and had his license revoked for two years.

On a first charge of no insurance, Mr. Russell was fined $315 and lost his license for an additional 12 months; on a second charge for the same offense, he was fined $515 and sentenced to 14 days in the Workhouse. His license was suspended for two years.

Leaving the scene of an accident cost him another $115 and he paid $30 on an unregistered vehicle offense.

Two drivers were fined and lost their licenses for driving while intoxicated.

Miguel A. Gonzales, 22 Lytle Street, was fined $365 and $30 to the Violent Crime Compensation Board. He lost his license for six months and was ordered to spend 12 hours at an Intoxicated Driver Resource Center.

Gerald D. Wninger, 423 Lawrenceville Road, Lawrenceville, was fined $815 and $30 VCCB. In addition, his license was suspended for two years and he was sentenced to 30 days community service and 48 hours IDRC.

Stipend vs. Hourly Pay:
Talks Are Broken Down

Representatives of the Board of Education and the teachers' union, the Princeton Regional Education Association, have called in a State mediator to break a deadlock left over from last year's contract settlement.

When the union and the Board agreed to a three-year contract last year, kept outside the settlement was a decision on whether teachers would continue to be paid an hourly wage for activities outside their teaching duties, or whether payment would be in the form of a fixed stipend.

This was done because the issue was difficult to resolve and was impeding negotiations.

A teacher, for example, who works with the high school yearbook committee is paid on an hourly basis. The Board would like, for several reasons, to change the method of payment to a fixed stipend. Among other things, such a change would improve the District's budgeting process.

About $320,000 has been allocated in the 1991-92 school budget for hourly teachers' salaries for co-curricular and athletic activities at the high school. This is also called e.p.e.s. (extra pay for extra service).

The Board and union met on this issue during the past school year, but no real progress was made, said Board Subcommittee Chair Patty Soffronoff. Last Friday, it was decided to enlist the aid of a State mediator.

Closing Cost Assistance Available for Townhome

Residents and those who work in Princeton Borough and Township are eligible for economic assistance that may help them purchase a townhouse at Griggs Farm.

The base price for a two-bedroom unit is $89,900. Through the Township's affordable housing fund, approximately $1,000 would be available to reduce a buyer's closing costs. The Township's affordable housing fund has recently been increased by a contribution of $500,000 from Princeton University in lieu of land that was promised earlier for the Township's affordable housing program.

SENIOR PROJECTS: Jennifer Leach of Skillman presented original compositions for piano and Lemington Ridley of Somerset presented a fashion show of original clothing he designed last week in the theater at Princeton Day School. Miss Leach, winner of awards for composition from Westminster Choir College and the Boston Conservatory of Music, will attend Eastman School of Music at the University of Rochester next year. Mr. Ridley will study fashion at the Parsons School of Design in New York City.

According to Township Mayor Richard C. Woodbridge, 20 deposits have been taken on 51 units that are available. Mr. Woodbridge said many of the deposits were from Princeton residents or those who work in the community and that he expects the remaining units to be "snapped up quickly."

Although the price of the Griggs Farm units is low, the Orleans Company, which is marketing the remaining number of energy saving Griggs Farm units, has installed features and amenities that are high. The units have energy-saving R-19 insulation in the exterior walls and R-30 insulation in the ceilings. They also have Andersen windows, furniture-grade cabinets, Hot Point kitch-

faucets, and formica countertops as standard features.

Available options include second floor balconies, pedestal sinks and fireplaces. In addition to the low base price and affordable housing assistance program, there are low- and no-down payment mortgage programs available to qualified buyers as well as conventional mortgages. There is also a special mortgage designed for Princeton University employees, with the University acting as guarantor of a loan from certain area banks until the conventional 10 percent down payment can be achieved.

His work often makes use of the culture and landscape of Greece, where he normally spends part of the year. He is a long-time member of the PEN executive board and the author of five novels, 14 volumes of poetry in translation and five volumes of non-fiction.

His latest volume of translations, Yannis Ritsos: Repetitions, Testimonies, Parentheses, was published last April. His recent history of the George Polk affair, The Salonika Bay Murder, has just appeared in translation in Athens. Mr. Keeley's first novel, The Libation, was awarded the Rome Prize of the American Academy of Arts and Letters in 1958, and his translations have received similar prestigious prizes.

The institute will serve as a training model of interdisciplinary teaching, designed to re-energize teachers through scholarly exchange and to develop curriculum in the humanities.

Prof. Gossman's and Ms. Rosasco's lectures are two of a series of evening lectures and performances open to the public free of charge. For information call (908) 463-3640.

Park Ranger's Actions Reveal Poor Judgment

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The following letter was sent on May 7 to Paul Stern, Superintendent of the Delaware & Raritan Canal State Park. To date I have received no response. Regrettably, the lack of reply itself appears to provide commentary on the responsiveness of state park authorities.

We have lived along the Delaware and Raritan Canal between Griggstown and Rocky Hill for 22 years. And while much growth and development have gone on all around us during this time, the immediate area, thanks to the development of the Delaware and Raritan Canal State Park, has remained the same — or, in fact, been improved — to the enjoyment and pleasure of

Water Tank Termec Ecological Disaster

To the Editor, Town Topics:

As residents of Princeton Township for many years, living on the corner of Drake's Corner and Province Line Roads, we cherish the area around Cradle Rock (for which our little farm was named) and pray it can be preserved in its natural state for all the area residents. The underground water tank proposed by the Elizabethtown Water Company would be an ecological and environmental disaster, deprive us all of a rare gem of a site and create a traffic and noise (blasting) havoc.

Other sites can be found at lower elevations. As a public utility the corporation must be concerned for the concerns and wishes of its customers.

As residents along the Canal, we have "adopted" the narrow segment of land between the canal edge and Canal Road in front of our home. This is an area which the state and local township do little to maintain or beautify.

We have therefore paid to have tree limbs removed after they fell into the canal; we have pulled out poison ivy; we have planted flowers. In addition, we have picked up cans, bottles and other refuse which have been thoughtlessly discarded on a continual basis.

On Friday, May 3, my 79-year-old father, who is responsible for much of the above-mentioned work and maintenance, was stopped and confronted by a park ranger. It seems that the ranger, who never identified himself, was riding by our home and observed my father "throwing something."

He stopped his vehicle and informed my father, who was moving along the bank at the lower end of our property, that he had just observed him "littering."

My father explained to the ranger what he was doing, and in fact showed him what he had deposited. It was a "handful" of dandelions, a wildflower that is officially identified as making up part of the natural botanical environment in the park. My father also explained — and in fact showed the ranger — that he has built up a "natural mulch" to keep out the poison ivy and weeds and to encourage the flowers to grow.

My father further explained that he had recently paid to have branches removed from the canal. He pointed out to the ranger the general improvement that our portion of the canal bank enjoyed due in large part to his effort over the years.

Throughout this explanation the ranger continued to write his citation for littering and required identification from my father on his own property. My father walked up his driveway and had to provide the ranger with his driver's license, to prove his identification to the ranger's satisfaction.

At the end of the process, the ranger indicated that my father had littered "so little," he would not issue the summons! This entire encounter lasted about 15-20 minutes.

I arrived home to learn of this episode from my father. He was naturally upset. His pride was damaged. He could not understand how he would be accused of littering in an area that for so many years he had voluntarily worked to beautify.

He was hurt that he was required to prove his identity in front of his own home. And it was beyond his comprehension that all this should be caused by a handful of dandelions.

We appreciate the park and all those who help maintain its beauty. We appreciate the job that the park rangers do to help protect this environment. But this encounter is not appreciated, especially at this time of budget restraints and cutbacks.

The time this officer spent to pursue this issue was poorly used, inappropriately applied and demonstrated a lack of sensitivity or respect.

Say No to DOT Widening Of Princeton's Roads

To the Editor of Town Topics:
The two Princetons may never be consolidated, but they certainly spoke with one voice at last week's Princeton Township meeting.

Borough, Township and one sympathetic Montgomery resident rose to speak in response to the news that the New Jersey Department of Transportation is not only planning to remove parking meters on a section of Nassau Street and to replace unobtrusive little Harry's Brook Bridge on Princeton-Kingston Road (Route 27) with an enormous one but also has on its mind the widening of Routes 27 and 206 to four lanes.

If such action were ever taken, our town — not only one of the most historically interesting in the nation but one of its most attractive — would become little more than a commercial strip. The town would be ruined.

For several years a group of citizens informally named the Friends of Harry's Brook Bridge has actively fought to keep Harry's Brook Bridge a narrow one. We have had, and continue to have, the steadfast support of not only Princeton Township officials, but those of Princeton Borough and Princeton University. We thank them. But now that Princeton seems even more threatened, we need

News of the THEATRES

Autobiographical Play By Peruvian Writer Due

Nobel prize nominee Mario Vargas Llosa's The Young Lady from Tacna is in rehearsal as the third Princeton Rep production this season.

The playwright, born in Peru in 1936, had established himself as a novelist before he wrote this, his first play, in 1980. Though he left Peru for Europe as a young man, not to return until 16 years later, his memories of his Peruvian childhood play a large part in this semi-autobiographical piece.

The play started as a portrait of a great aunt, of whom he was very fond, who lived to be very old. Llosa weaves his own recollection of his great aunt with her recollections of her life as a child and young woman.

Where their memories fail, the playwright begins to fantasize, to imagine what it might have been. Vargas Llosa uses the device of a writer-within-the-play who functions both as narrator and participant.

Different productions of this play have received very different interpretations, because the playwright leaves a great deal to the imagination. Victoria Liberatori, artistic producing director of the company, is directing.

The production will run for the weekends of June 14, 21 and 28 at the Broadmead Theatre at 171 Broadmead. Performance times are 8 p.m. Friday, Saturday and Sunday, and 2 p.m. Sunday.

This is a change from earlier productions. There will be only one matinee, on Sundays, and an additional evening performance on Sunday. To order tickets, call the box office at 921-3682.

OPENS FRIDAY: Mark Del Castillo Moranta plays Joaquin and Janica Orlandi la Elvira in Princeton Rep Company's production of Mario Vargas Llosa's play "The Young Lady from Tacna," opening Friday at the Broadmead Theatre, 171 Broadmead. Performances are Friday, Saturday and Sunday, through June 30.

forming Arts, has announced the appointment of Jeffrey Woodward as managing director, effective July 1. Mr. Woodward succeeds William P. Wingate, an arts management consultant and producer, who headed the search for a new managing director and served as interim executive director following the resignation of McCarter's former managing director John Herochik in January.

Artistic Director Emily Mann stated that she is "thrilled by Jeff's appointment. I've known Jeff for many years and he'll bring to McCarter exactly the skills needed to help us reach out to new audiences and expand philanthropic funding bases. I cannot thank Bill Wingate enough for bringing us together."

Mr. Woodward is currently the managing director of Northlight Theatre, where he oversaw the theatre's transition from its original home to the Coronet Theatre in Evanston, Ill. For five seasons, Mr. Woodward served as the general manager and marketing director at Hartford Stage Company in Connecticut. During his tenure the theater's subscription base increased from 8,900 to 15,000 after several years of declining attendance, and the number of individual contributors tripled.

Mr. Woodward worked for the Mark Taper Forum in Los Angeles and the Oregon Shakespeare Festival and has served as a consultant to the Arizona Theatre Company. He received an M.B.A. from New York University and a B.A. from Pomona College in California.

Shelley Partee plays yet another Southern woman, Annelle. New to Stage One are Dara Ellen Breitkopf, Billie Durand, and Louise Gallanda, playing the roles of Shelby, Claire, and M'Lynn.

In Steel Magnolias, six women's lives are explored through their conversations and actions in the strictly female world of the beauty parlor.

All seats are reserved and all performances are at the Studio Theater in the Fine Arts Building at Rider College.

TOWN TOPICS' ADVERTISERS know what Princeton customers want.

WOMAN TO WOMAN: Shelby, played by Dara Ellen Breitkopf, tells her mother, M'Lynn, (Louise Gallanda) why she wants to have a baby in this dramatic moment from the Robert Harling's "Steel Magnolias." ### Chairmen Are Announced For NJSO Pops Concert

Susan Robinson has been named chair, with Carlette Winslow and Scott Hoerl as co-chairs, for the 4th of July Princeton Pops Concert and Fireworks display.

The event is sponsored by the Princeton/Mercer Chapter of the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra League, and the Westminster Conservatory of Music. The event benefits free orchestra concerts for school children and scholarships for music students.

Mrs. Robinson has recently moved to the Princeton area and comes to the NJSOL with much experience as a volunteer. She was particularly active with the Memphis Symphony. Mrs. Winslow has long been associated with the NJSOL, as a playing member of the orchestra, as a league volunteer for many years, and as co-chair of the pops for several seasons. Mr. Hoerl is director of the Westminster Conservatory.

"Our second year for the Pops at Mercer County Park promises to be very exciting," said Mrs. Robinson. "There is plenty of parking and room for a traditional picnic. For the first time we are inviting the public to be patrons for the event."

Patronage includes four tickets, a VIP parking pass with a special exit from the park, and a buffet dinner catered by the Olive Garden Restaurant in Lawrenceville. Those who would like to volunteer as ticket-takers and car-parkers will be given a free dinner by the Olive Garden.

General admission or patron tickets are available at the Palmer Square Kiosk, Princeton University Store, Davidson's, Titles Unlimited, Ellsworth's Wine and Liquors, Epstein's credit desk (Market-Fair), Foodtown in Rocky Hill, Historic Hopewell House, Makrancy's (MarketFair), Say Cheese...Nuts, etc! in Pennington and Westminster Conservatory of Music.

For further information call the Conservatory at 921-7104.

The Cast Is Announced For Opera 'Falstaff'

Verdi's Falstaff, June Opera Festival of New Jersey's second production this season, will open Thursday, June 20, at 8 in the Kirby Arts Center, the Lawrenceville School.

The story of that robust old rascal Sir John Falstaff who comes a-wooing the merry wives of Windsor was created by Verdi in his 80th year. The June Opera Festival production will be directed by Nagle Jackson who directed The Marriage of Figaro two seasons ago. It will be conducted by Michael Pratt, the Festival's artistic director and co-founder.

Falstaff will be repeated on Saturday, June 22, at 8; Friday, June 28, at 8; Sunday, June 30, at 3; and Saturday, July 6, at 8. Tickets and subscriptions range from $15 to $80. They may be purchased by calling the box office at 936-1500, or by writing the June Opera Festival box office, 55 Princeton-Hightstown Road, Princeton Junction 08550.

Mr. Jackson and his stage designer will use Elizabethan staging in keeping with Falstaff's Shakespearean source. Bass baritone Daniel Smith, making his first appearance at June Opera, will play the lead role.

As the mischievous Mistress Alice Ford, soprano Linda Wall returns to June Opera after her success last season as Donna Elvira. Baritone Roy Stevens, making his Festival debut, will sing the role of Ford.

Two other newcomers to June Opera will portray the young lovers Nannette and Fenton — soprano Darynn Zimmer and tenor Matthew Lord.

Mezzo-sopranos Janet Ellis and Janine Hawley will sing the other merry wives of Windsor, Mistress Quickley and Mrs. Page respectively.

Falstaff will be performed in repertory with Mozart's Abduction from the Seraglio, which opens Saturday. The audience is invited to picnic under the festival tent on The Lawrenceville School grounds before the performances. Ticket holders may order gourmet picnics from the Festival's caterer in advance, bring their own, or partake of on-site catering. June Opera will provide a string quartet or classical guitar to add to the ambience.

There will be no picnics available on opening night, when a special gala benefit will be held beginning at 6 under the festival tent. Benefit dinner tickets are $50 in addition to the ticket price and may be purchased at the time of placing a ticket order.

For further information call 936-1505.

Literate, canny, hard-edged and peppered with grim and unexpected rhymes, his songs have been recorded by dozens of artists ranging from balladeers like Bob Dylan to country singers and folk-rockers like Bonnie Raitt.

Tickets are $13, $14, $16, $17 and $22. For reservations call the McCarter box office at 683-8000, Monday through Saturday, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

form this quartet several years ago. The quartet made its debut in Somerville in 1987 and during the 1988-89 season made debuts in London, the 92nd Street "Y" in New York City, Seattle and Pittsburgh.

This season the Orion will make its debut at the Kennedy Center in Washington D.C., performing a Leon Kirchner program with the composer and pianist performing, and it will also make a tour of North America. Past tours have included the Spoleto, Italy, Festival and the Turku Festival in Finland.

The members include Daniel and Todd Phillips, violinists who trade the first violin chair; Catherine Metz, violist; and Timothy Eddy, cellist.

A winner of the Young Concert Artists International Auditions, Mr. Phillips has performed recitals at Alice Tully Hall and the 92nd Street "Y" and has appeared with the symphonies of St. Louis, Pittsburgh, Houston and San Antonio. He has also performed at the Santa Fe Chamber Music Festival and at the Marlboro and Spoleto Festivals. Currently violin soloist with the Bach Aria Group, he has toured and recorded quartet with Gidon Kramer, violist Kim Kashkashian and cellist Yo-Yo Ma.

His brother Todd, is a leading violinist with the Orpheus Chamber Orchestra. He made his Pittsburgh Symphony debut at the age of 13 and has gone on to perform with many orchestras in this country and in Europe. Mr. Phillips' chamber music activities include performances at the Santa Fe Chamber Music Festival, Chamber Music Society of Lincoln Center and the chamber music series at the 92nd Street

"Y." He has also participated in six national tours with "Music from Marlboro."

Catherine Metz, equally at home as a violist or violinist, is currently the concertmaster of the Jupiter Symphony and performs regularly with the Orpheus Chamber Orchestra. Ms. Metz has been a member of several distinguished ensembles, including the Naumberg Award-winning Primavera Quartet, and she was a winner of the first prize in the 1981 Fischoff Chamber Music Competition.

Cellist Timothy Eddy has earned distinction as a recitalist, soloist with orchestra, chamber musician and recording artist. He has performed duo-recitals with pianist Gilbert Kalish and as a top prize winner has appeared with numerous orchestras. Mr. Eddy has been in residence at the Mannes School of Music in New York City with the Galimir String Quartet and is the cello soloist with the Bach Aria Group.

For their program here, the Orion String Quartet will perform Mozart's Quartet in B-flat major ("Hunt") K. 458, Bartok's Quartet No. 1, Op. 7, and Schumann's Quartet No. 3 in A Major.

The concert is the first of five in this year's Summer Chamber Concert Series. The Mannes Piano Trio will perform Monday, July 8; the Borromeo String Quartet, Wednesday, July 17; the Jubal Trio, Wednesday, July 24, and the Shanghai Quartet with Jian Wang, cello, on Tuesday, July 30.

The YWCA is sponsoring a new program of pre-concert talks to be held in fair weather on the lawn behind Alexander Hall under the YWCA banner. The talks will begin at 7 and cost $3 per person. One of the musicians from the Orion String Quartet will give the talk on June 26.

DECIDING ON A DECK: "We really try to satisfy the customers and to get them exactly what they want. Archadeck definitely provides quality and customer satisfaction. We offer a lifetime guarantee. We also have customers from all over, especially Mercer, Hunterdon and Somerset Counties, and also Pennsylvania. We do a lot of work in the Princeton area." Dave Beckman knows all about building decks, and he enjoys helping people decide on the right deck for their needs.

IT'S NEW To Us

If You Need a Deck Call On Archadeck

Outdoor decks are becoming more and more popular, and many home-owners are adding them onto existing houses, reports Dave Beckman, owner of the local Archadeck franchise. He is enthusiastic about his product and optimistic about its future.

"We are trend setters at Archadeck. We build excellent decks. We are constantly revamping our process, and we just keep getting better and better. The quality of the wood, the workmanship and the guarantee we offer set us apart. Also, our decks are stick built on site. They are custom designed and are not pre-fabricated or from a kit," says Mr. Beckman, who opened his franchise in 1989.

"I come from a construction family," he adds. "I was up on my first barn when I was 6. My father thought there could be better opportunities for me, though, so I got into electronics and computers. I was with Unisys for 23 years."

However, he found that he missed the hands-on satisfaction of building something from scratch, and he started working part-time on his own, establishing a company, Good Measure Builder, Inc.

Happiest When Building

"I did decks and one-room additions," explains Mr. Beckman, "and I realized that whenever I was out building decks, I was very happy. It finally dawned on me one day that I was really happiest when I was building. Also, I like to get out and do my own thing, and I felt I wanted a change."

After a few years, he was awarded the local Archadeck franchise. Archadeck was established in 1984 in Richmond, Vir. and now has 50 franchises east of the Mississippi River. Mr. Beckman runs his business independently, but the decks must be built according to Archadeck stipulations and specifications.

"I can use any wood we decide on," he notes, "But generally we use southern yellow pine. It is abundant, grows rapidly, is very strong, and it accepts the chemicals very well. Over 90% of the decks are pressure-treated with chemicals to prevent the wood from rotting."

"We basically try to create a deck for the house and the customer, the carpenters, the franchiser and the franchisee."

He adds that starting a new venture is exciting, and he has been very encouraged with the volume of business. "I am really enjoying it. You work harder when you have your own business. You make your own decisions, and no one is telling you what to do — unless it's the customers."

I hope we will continue to grow, and that people will know they can depend on us. I get a lot of satisfaction from what I do. It's a nice feeling of accomplishment.

"I got into the business with the idea of just administering, not selling," he adds, "but I really like going into people's homes and seeing the kids and animals. I found I really enjoy people more than I realized."

"And the final satisfaction of going back to see the finished product and finding how happy the customers are is incredible. They always have comments like 'The carpenters worked so hard, and they were great craftsmen.' That makes us feel so good, to know the customer is pleased. This counts the most."

Archadeck can be reached by calling 921-3420 up to 11 p.m. "We always get back within two days, and most often the same day," says Mr. Beckman.

Exercising Can Be Fun
At Princeton Fitness
Now that it's time for shorts and swim suits, there are those who may feel the need for some shaping up. A bit of toning here or firming there may be in order. If you find yourself in this category, and see fitness in your future, The Princeton Fitness Center at the Princeton Shopping Center may be the place for you. You will find that exercise is not necessarily tedious and tiring. It can actually be fun.

"We are a fully equipped health club," explains owner John Law. "We offer circuit training with 24 different Nautilus machines that work every muscle group in the body. We also have free weights, cardiovascular equipment, aerobics and massage. We have the largest aerobics program in the area, and on July 8, we will be introducing 'Steppin' Out', our new step classes."

Mr. Law says he is aware that people often hesitate to join a club for fear of injury or because they feel there may not be a low enough level for them to begin. "Why we are different from any other health club is that we truly offer personalized fitness training. We have trainers on the floor at all times, who monitor people's programs, monitor their form and contribute to their motivation."

"We are very careful about

TONE UP TIME: "We feel a minimum of three days a week for 35 or 40 minutes will produce results in three months. You feel better instantly. You are more alert, not as fatigued." John Law, owner of The Princeton Fitness Center in the Princeton Shopping Center, demonstrates a Nautilus machine for strengthening the shoulders and says he is happy to tell people about the benefits of working out.

people's training," he continues. "Everyone who joins develops an individual program with a trainer. We look 10 and 20 years down the road. We don't want any injuries to show up later. People can progress at their own pace. They are not pushed."

Comfortable Atmosphere
"Also," he adds, "I would urge people who might be uncertain or skeptical about coming to a health club not to be afraid to come because of how they look. It's not like that here. It's a nice comfortable atmosphere. Everyone is helpful, and people wear everything — shorts and cutoffs, whatever they want to wear. It's casual, a real mix of clothes."

Mr. Law, who purchased the center two and a half years ago, has always had an interest in fitness and sports, although running his own business is something new. An athlete who played football, baseball and basketball, he earned a full football scholarship to Rutgers and has worked out since he was a freshman in high school.

He continued to train after he took a job as a district sales manager with Whitehall Laboratories. When the opportunity to buy The Princeton Fitness Center came along, he decided the time was right. "The change in my career wasn't planned," he explains. "It kind of fell in my lap. I always wanted to have my own business, but I never really thought I would."

"When I came in," he continues, "there was good news and bad news. The good news was that there was a tremendous amount of membership activity. But with that much activity, the place gets very tired. I wanted to rebuild the entire club — both the equipment and decor."

New Decor
He remodeled the men's and women's locker rooms, the dance studio (for aerobics) and replaced 80% of the equipment with new state-of-the-art Nautilus machines. The new red and white decor has been very popular, he adds.

"The main thrust has been to renovate the club," he says. "We're not quite finished, but the members are thrilled."

Members range in age from 20 to 85, he reports, and include men and women. They come for a variety of reasons — to improve overall health, to lose or gain weight, to lower blood pressure or cholesterol, and to relieve stress.

"In the '80s and '90s there have been a lot of people in the fast lane," he notes, "and working out here is a great way to get rid of stress."

Clients are asked to complete a medical form before joining, and Mr. Law adds it is often a good idea to check with a doctor before starting the training.

In addition to the Nautilus machines, there is a variety of cardiovascular equipment, such as exercise bikes, Lifecycle, Stairmaster and rowing machines.

Health Club, Not Gym
Emphasis is always on the client and what is best for that individual, he says emphatically. "We are not a chain. Our job is not just to sign someone up. We help people to achieve their goals. We care about individual members. We're not here just to take their money. Our integrity is important. We run a good honest business. The basic difference between us and others is that we are not a gym. We are a health club.

Also, we are very successful. We keep people here. We have a very high member retention rate."

"I have been thrilled by the growth of The Princeton Fitness Center," he continues. "Even in a recession, it has proved to me that without a doubt a fitness and health club is a way of life now. It is a necessity, not a luxury. It has been said that this is the cheapest health insurance policy you can get. You have to look at priorities, and if your health and fitness is a priority, this is a good way to keep on top of it."

Corporate fitness is also available, he says, and Bristol-Myers Squibb and The Hyatt are among those who have programs arranged by the center.

In addition, the center is sponsoring 32 runners at the Hospital Fete this Saturday. "It's a 10K run, and I'm one of the runners," says Mr. Law.

He firmly believes that everyone, including those with special problems, can benefit from a training program. "It's very rewarding to see people come in and achieve their goals. People with special problems, such as being overweight or disabled, come in, and my door is always open to them. I work with them, and they definitely make progress. There is a program here for everyone, whatever their goals, and I really enjoy the interaction with all the people."

The Princeton Fitness Center is open Monday through Wednesday 6 a.m. to 10 p.m., Thursday and Friday 8 to 9, and Saturday and Sunday 8 to 4.

Two Galleries Combine For Lambertville Show

For the first time two galleries in Lambertville will share an exhibition.

The Artfull Eye and the Coryell Gallery will exhibit works by 26 members of the Princeton Artists Alliance in a show titled "Alternate Views" to be held this Sunday through July 14. The public is invited to attend the opening reception, in both galleries, to meet the artists on Sunday, from 3 to 6 p.m.

Just over a year ago this group of professional artists banded together to form the Princeton Artists Alliance. The purpose of the group is to mount exhibitions to give art lovers in the nearby communities an opportunity to view the accomplishments of artists who live and work in an area rich in intellectual and creative stimulation.

Artists showing in the Coryell Gallery at the Porkyard will be Joanne Augustine, Dorothy Wells Bissell, Peter Cook, Jane Eccles, Nancy Lee Kern, Marge Levine, Elizabeth Linda Lombardi, Charles McVicker, Lucy Graves McVicker, Harry I. Naar, Joanne S. Scott, Jeanne Pasley, and Barbara Watts.

"MEDIUM MESSAGE" is an acrylic/collage by Michael Ramus, one of the 26 members of the Princeton Artists Alliance. Their work will be on view at two Lambertville galleries from June 16 to July 14 in a show titled "Alternate Views."

Works of Local Artists Shown at Opera Festival

The June Opera Festival of New Jersey's eighth season will include an art show featuring four local artists — Janet Hautau, David McClure, Janet Payne, and Ruth Strohl-Palmer. This special exhibition, "The Artist's Garden" will be shown in the art gallery of David McClure has exhibited his pastel drawings at art fairs and juried shows throughout the tri-state area since 1988. "The Artist's Garden" is his first group show.

A knowledgeable and avid gardener, Janet Payne combines her sense of design and color to create a body of work that consists of realistic florals inspired in part by her own gardens. Concentrating on a single subject reminiscent of Georgia O'Keeffe, her own distinct style, using subtle shades and a limited palette, is sharp-edged and realistic.

Ruth Strohl-Palmer began her art career as an illustrator and jewelry designer before opening her own studio, Dragonfly Design Studio. Working on a small scale with rich colors, her paintings reflect her love of gardens and gardening. She also works in fiber and mixed media to create collages, jewelry and one-of-a-kind books.

Exhibits

"Chased Paper," a selection of two- and three-dimensional paperworks by two Princeton artists, will be on view at the Hunterdon Art Center, Clinton, from June 16 through July 28.

An opening reception is scheduled for Sunday, June 16, from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m., with artists Margaret Kennard Johnson and Michael Ramus in attendance. The public is invited to attend.

The exhibition will include intaglio, relief, embossed, and laminated prints, collage/paintings, and sculptured cardboard and Japanese handmade paper. The work spans the last 15 years.

Ms. Johnson taught art and design for many years at the Museum of Modern Art in New York City and has earned an in-

Four Princeton Seniors Recognized for Athletics

Three Princeton University seniors have received awards as the school's top athletes, while a fourth bagged a more lucrative prize, a baseball contract with the San Diego Padres.

Basketball star Kit Mueller and track all-American Bill Burke shared the William W. Roper Trophy, the highest athletic award for senior men. Mueller's four-year exploits on the hard court are well known, best exemplified by the fact that he scored more points (1,546) than anyone who played the game here, except Bill Bradley.

Burke, who captained both the track and cross country teams, was undefeated in the fall sport, and won the Heptagonal championship, only the third Tiger runner to do so in the 52-year history of the event. In the winter track season, he became the first Princetonian to break the four-minute mile, running a time of 3:58.7 in the Millrose Games. He earned all-America honors with a fifth-place finish at the NCAAs with another effort under four minutes, 3:59.7.

Mollie Marcoux, best known for her prowess in ice hockey, but a four-year letter winner in soccer as well, received the C. Otto von Kienbusch Sports-woman of the Year Award.

Bender, who guided the team the previous eight years, was a knowledgeable but complex manager. His teams were peppered with such individual standout players as Dave Arendas, Craig Ender, Chuck McCall, Darren Villani, Jay Jordan, Tim Rumer and Mike Petrone. But while Post 76 won

First Home Basketball Game Will Come Early This Season for Princeton Fans

The full schedule won't be released for at least another month, but Princeton basketball fans can count on seeing the Tigers play in Jadwin a lot earlier next season than last.

In contrast to the 1990-91 campaign when the Tigers didn't play at home until mid-January, they will play Monmouth College here Wednesday, November 20 in one of the opening rounds of the pre-season National Invitation Tournament. This is the first time Pete Carril's team has ever played in the event; it last played in the post-season affair in 1975, and won the championship. On several occasions after that when it finished second in the Ivy League and did not compete in the NCAA Tournament, Princeton was inexplicably never invited back to play in the NIT.

In addition to the Orange and Black, which finished ranked 18th in the country, three other top-25 teams will play in the tournament. Kentucky, ranked No. 9, will open at home against West Virginia on November 20. Oklahoma State, No. 14, will meet Evansville at home on November 21; and No. 23 Texas will face Washington at home the previous evening.

Other games on November 20 include Colorado State at Boise State, James Madison at Georgia Tech, and Manhattan at Pittsburgh. Ball State will play at Purdue on November 21.

Second-round games will be played Friday and Saturday, November 22 and 23 at sites to be determined. Princeton will face the winner of the Washington-Texas contest.

Semifinals are scheduled Wednesday, November 27, and the finals for Friday, November 29, at Madison Square Garden. ESPN will televise nine of the games, including the semifinals and finals. Princeton's opening round game will not be one of those televised, but the second round game might be.

Because of the possibility that it may have to play more than one game in the tournament, perhaps as many as three or four, Princeton has also gotten relief from a league rule that says it may only schedule 26 games. If they reach the NIT finals, the Tigers could wind up playing as many as 29, or even more if they qualify for the NCAA tournament again.

Post 218 Quickly Proves Things Will Be Different This Year Scoring Come-from-Behind Victory in Season's First Game

Forget that 0-24 season. It's history.

The start of a new season in the Mercer County American Legion League could not have gotten off to a better start as far as Princeton Post 218 is concerned. Post 218 came from behind to score eight runs in the eighth inning on six hits and five errors to defeat Mitchell Davis, 14-11, Saturday at the Trenton High diamond for its first Legion win ever. For one day, Post 218 shared first place in the League.

Post 218 manager Tom Parker had called it. With the addition of seven new faces on the squad, he had commented, "I like what I've got." Yes, he felt certain, he said, that the team would end its winless streak. And, for good measure, he saw no reason why it couldn't happen in the first game.

When Post 218 made a prophetic out of Parker, euphoria ran rampant. "Oh, man!" recalled Parker. "The kids were up in the air. They were walking on Cloud Nine."

"Like I said, start the season off right and we did. We came from behind; the kids did not get down on themselves and we pulled it off."

A day later on Sunday, Post 218 took a 2-0 lead over Ewing Post 314 but couldn't hold it, losing 10-2. "We had a bad inning when they managed to score some runs," said Parker. "This is not sour grapes but there were some questionable calls. The guys weren't giving our pitchers anything over the plate."

Ewing plated five runs in the second and put the game out of reach with four more in the sixth. Wasted were three hits by Post 218 shortstop Danny Wilson and two by outfielder Dave Wise.

A Busy Schedule

After a scheduled home opener with Hopewell Post 339 earlier in the week, Post 218 will host Trenton Post 93 this Wednesday at 5:45 at its home field on Valley Road. During the weekend, it will be at Lawrence Post 414 for a Saturday evening contest at 7 at Eggers Crossing Park and at Hamilton Post 31 on Sunday at 1 at Steinert High. Bordentown Post 26 will be here Monday at 5:45.

Contests in the 24-game regular season will come at a one-game-every-two-days pace during the 41-day season, which ends July 18. Unlike last year, there are no byes this season.

Hamilton, which won the league championship in a playoff last year, and Broad Street Park, which posted a 21-9 record last year, have been picked by those following the league to make it a two-team race this year.

Newcomers to Post 218 this year include Matt DeVoe, Dave Long and Jeff Sprague, all from Princeton High. DeVoe was the surprise performer for the Little Tigers this spring, batting almost .400. The versatile Long, a three-year veteran, is an infielder-outfielder and relief pitcher.

Coming on board from Montgomery High are Matt Hunter and Dan Sheridan. Infielder Pete Myers was obtained from Princeton Post 76 on waivers.

A Princeton High player two years back, Danny Page is Parker's new assistant coach, and Jim Healey returns as general manager. "We have a good support staff," agreed Parker.

For the opener, Parker started Chris Healey at first and Aaron Cooper at second, both PHS players. Hun's Wilson was at short and Scott Feldman of Princeton Day School at third. DeVoe, Ben Stentz and Long, all PHS teammates, patrolled the outfield, while Montgomery's burly Joe Hayek, one of the team's leading hitters last year, returned behind the plate. Matt Baum of PHS was on the mound.

Does Parker foresee more wins down the line? "I think so," he replied. "I'm impressed with the kind of pitching we have. I think we have the pitching to contend in this league. That's what you need and that's what we lacked last year. We have the offense."

Through seven innings, it looked as if Post 218 was headed for another loss in its season's opener. Mitchell-Davis had scored four runs in the first inning and led 9-5 as the eighth inning opened.

In one inning, Post 218 ended a year of frustration. It bunched six of its 13 hits and took advantage of five M-D errors to take a 14-9 lead. Wise and Matt Baum each plated runs with hits but the biggest was Stentz's second triple that drove in two runs.

The small but scrappy Stentz was like a power hitter with two triples and a single, enthused Parker. "He was like Hank Aaron at the plate. Stentz and DeVoe rapped three hits apiece, while Cooper, Baum and Wilson each had two hits.

Baum started on the mound, struck out five but walked seven in the 4 1/3 innings he worked. Long came on, fanned eight and did not issue a walk in 3 1/3 innings of relief to get the win. Colin Apse hurled the last inning. "Long was tough," said Parker. "He's a bona-fide power pitcher."

On the roster are eight 16-year-olds, two 15-year-olds and two 14-year-olds. Post 76 also had to open against Broad Street Park, considered to be one of the two top contenders in the league this season.

Post 76 lost that opener 7-1. Its only run came in the fifth when Brent Papciack scored on a passed ball. Papciack had reached third by singling and advancing on another single by Matt McClenahan and a walk to Scott Petrone.

In games this week, Post 76 will be at Hamilton this Wednesday and host Lawrence on Thursday at its home field in Mercer Park. Then in three games in three days it will travel to Bordentown on Saturday, to Ewing for a night contest Sunday and entertain Hopewell on Monday.

Price lost three-fourths of the starting pitching rotation with the departure of Scott Lord, Jeff Skalinski, and Shawn Murphy. Also gone are veteran catcher Greg Papciack, utility player and pitcher Jason Atlas and perhaps the best player in the league last year, Peter Prodanov. The centerpiece in a dispute between state sport and school officials when he transferred from West Windsor to Notre Dame High, Prodanov has elected not to play Legion ball this year.

The burden of providing the leadership for the young Post 76 team will fall on its three captains: Scott Petrone, Matt McClenahan and Jason Rizzo. Petrone, the shortstop, is a four-year veteran on the team and the last of the Princeton-based players. McClenahan won the league's Rookie of the Year honor last year when he batted .362. He anchors third base. Rizzo is a fixture at first.

Other veterans returning include Mike Andolina, Sharif Aboelnaga, Brent Papciack, Paul Pearlman, Mark McKenzie, Nick Hsieh, Edwin Upson and pitcher Gary Botto.

Although Price agrees his team is young, he insists that is not going to be used as an excuse. For the team to succeed, he says, the younger players are going to have to raise their former level of play to the higher level of Legion ball. If that happens, Post 76, he predicts, could have a good season.

TRACK STAR: Anne Murphy, a 12-year-old Princeton Day School student holds the Opperman Award for Athlete of the Year. The award is given by the Recreation Department to the young Princeton athlete who best exemplifies the spirit of track and field competition. Miss Murphy took first place in the 100-meter dash and placed second in the long jump in last year's New Jersey Hershey Track and Field Meet.

Even Record at 1-1

Post 76 evened its record at 1-1 Monday at Mercer Park when it defeated Mitchell Davis, 13-3, in its second outing.

This one was over quickly as Post 76 scored six runs in the first inning and added four more in the second to grab a 10-0 lead over the visiting M-D club. For good measure, Post 76 added two more in the third.

Left fielder Paul Pearlman wielded a big bat for the victors with a double and two singles. Pearlman drove in five runs and scored two. Sharif Aboelnaga also chipped in with three hits during Post 76's 14-hit attack. Nick Hsieh tripled home two runs and shortstop Scott Petrone had a double in the big win.

Winning pitcher Ed Upson gave up two hits and one run in the five innings he worked. Mitchell Davis dropped to 0-2 with the loss.

Ficarro's In 2nd Place After Two Shutout Wins

Steve Ficarro's Auto Body climbed into second place last week in the Mercer County Women's League with a pair of easy wins. Ficarro's did not allow a run to score in blanking Robert's Landscaping, 11-0, Thursday, and in routing Matt and Al's Stars, 20-0, two days earlier.

While the wins advanced Ficarro's they didn't help in its goal to catch league-leading Grove Plumbing which hung on to edge Three Seasons 3-2 last week to remain undefeated. Two-thirds through the regular 30-game season, Ficarro's trails Grove by four games.

Against Roberts, Ficarro's scored in every inning but the fifth to take care of the offensive end. Defensively, winning pitcher Carol Ann Mazzella allowed five hits and Debbie Smyth did a nice job at filling in for the absent Karen Wagner at short.

Cee Aerstin had three hits in four at bats for the victors and drove in two runs. Beth Ault, Janet Comerford and Smyth all had two hits, Comerford connecting for a triple.

Opposite Matt and Al's, Ficarro's only batted four times, but that was more than enough as their bats were alive.

A triple was the Ficarro hit of choice. Ault connected for one in going 4-for-4; Doreen Romanchuk belted a pair and drove in three runs in batting 3-for-4, and Shannon Keenan stroked a triple in collecting two hits in three at bats.

Karen Wagner, Aerstin and Cindy Lombardo all added two hits apiece, Lombardo also scoring three runs. Mazzella, who in past years had hurled for both Grove and Three Seasons in the league, tossed a two-hitter.

In games ahead, Ficarro's will oppose Miller Lite on Thursday at 6:30 at Mercer Park. The Lite team upset Ficarro's, 7-4, earlier this year and manager Bob Smyth, noting that his team had avenged an earlier loss to Dot's Girls, commented, "We'd like to get Miller as well."

On Tuesday, Ficarro's will meet third-place Three Seasons for the second time this season at 7:30 on Field 3. Smyth is hoping the results will be the same. Said he, "The first time we trilled them 8-0."

YOU CAN FIND what you need in TOWN TOPICS.

BIG CUT BY CARLA: Carla Brantley, who switched from the powerful Teddy Bears team of Union County to Ficarro's Auto Body, because she liked the way the players got along with each other, takes a big cut in game last week against Roberts Landscaping. The team's extra hitter, Brantley, had hit in 11-0 win.

Greenberg Excels Again In Swim Meet on Campus

Hosted by Eastern Express Swim Team, the event was attended by 32 teams. Eighteen swimmers from six area communities represented Whitewater at the 1991 "Summer Sizzle" long-course meet held this month at Princeton University's DeNunzio Pool.

Hosted by Eastern Express Swim Team, the event was attended by 32 teams.

In the 10-and-under age group, Kaisa Greenberg of Princeton Junction placed first in the 50M freestyle, 100M free, 200M free, 50M breaststroke, 100M breast, and 200M individual medley. She finished second in the 100M backstroke and 50M butterfly.

Jenny Chiurco placed fourth in 100M fly and 100M breast, fifth in 200M free, sixth in 50M breast and 200M IM, and sev-

Neighbors on Nassau Are Opponents on Diamond

They are neighbors in business but opponents on the softball diamond.

Andrew Gensey (left) is manager of Alan Royce men's clothing store and Mitch Forest is owner of Forest Jewelers, both stores located next door to each other in the 20 Nassau Street Building.

Gensey is a catcher and manager for the Alan Royce team, which is currently in first place after four games in the Jewish Community Center Adult Softball League. Forest is a pitcher on the Princeton team in the nine-team, slow-pitch league, which plays doubleheaders every Sunday morning at 9 at Community Park and other diamonds in the area, including some in West Windsor and Yardley.

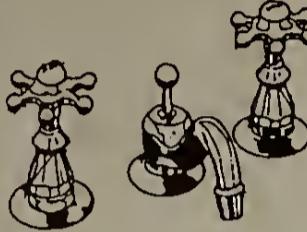

Gensey played in the Babe Ruth League and "a little third base" for Franklin and Marshall College in Lancaster, Pa. The 6-2, 240-pound Forest reported he played for the Mid-Queens Boys Club in his youth and got as far as the Babe Ruth League before ending his youthful career on the baseball diamond and turning to the real thing.

The league, says Gensey, "is competitive but not cut-throat. It's mostly guys 30 and up who just want to have a good time — and a good time is had by all."

The 10-and-under girls' medley relay team of Greenberg, Chiurco, Heim and Stephanie Hsia came in second. The free relay team of Greenberg, Chiurco, Katie Duran and Kari Swanson also placed second.

In the 11/12 age group, David Chinnici was third in boys' 100M back, fourth in 50M back and 100M free and fifth in 50M free. Mary Heim placed fifth in the 100M fly and seventh in 50M fly, while Radji Bryson-Barrett captured seventh in 200M free.

Eastern Express Is Third At Summer Swim Meet

The Princeton-based Eastern Express swim team placed third overall out of 35 teams from five states at the inaugural Summer Sizzle swim meet held this month at the DeNunzio pool on the Princeton University campus.

Four swimmers paced the Express with wins in individual events. Gabrielle Devereux, a sophomore at Princeton High School, won the open division of both the 400 meter individual medley in 5:13.49 and the 200 I.M. in 2:31.78. She placed second in the 800 freestyle, third in the 200 backstroke, third in the 200 breast and fourth in the 100 back.

In the 13-14 division, Devereux swam to a first place in the 100 freestyle with a time of 1:02.35.

Hal Wansley, a fifth-grader at Princeton Day School, won the 50 backstroke in 37.18 and the 100 breaststroke in 1:30.25 in the 10 and under division. Wansley was barely out touched at the finish of the 200 individual medley as he captured second place in 2:49.84. He also placed fourth in the 50 butterfly.

Princeton High freshman Sarah Fraser finished first in the 100 butterfly in the 13-14 division with a time of 1:09.30. She came in second in the 200 individual medley (2:37.96, and eighth in both the 400 and 200 freestyle events. In the open division, Fraser placed fourth in the 200 butterfly.

Several other Express swimmers also turned in medal winning performances. In the 13-14 category, PHS freshman Andy Potts captured second place in both the 400 freestyle (4:30.13) and the 200 freestyle (2:11.11). He was seventh in the 100 freestyle. In the open division, Potts finished fifth in the 400 I.M. and sixth in the 200 backstroke.

Hopewell Valley Central High School's Emily Morland earned a second place in the 200 freestyle with a time of 2:19.85. She placed third in the 400 freestyle and fourth in the 100 freestyle.

Jen Stores, a freshman at Hopewell Valley Central High, swam a strong 200 I.M. to finish fourth in 2:41.33. She placed sixth in the 50 freestyle and seventh in the 100 breaststroke.

Heather Payne, a ninth-grader at Princeton Day School, placed second in the 100 backstroke (1:13.34) and sixth in the 200 individual medley in the 13-14 division.

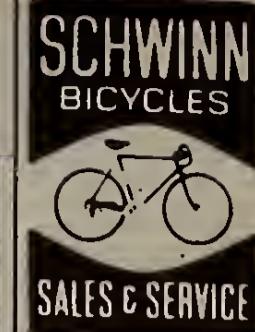

Catherine Preston, an eighth grader at John Witherspoon Middle School, placed sixth in both the 200 and 400 freestyle events in the 13-14 division.

In the 10 and under category, John Walsh, a fifth grader at PDS, was second in the 50 breaststroke and eighth in the 100 breaststroke. Naomi Dunson, a sixth grader at PDS, claimed a fifth place in the 100 butterfly and eighth place in the 50 butterfly. Robert Honstein, a sixth grader at John Witherspoon, was fourth in the 100 backstroke, sixth in the 50 breaststroke and seventh in the 100 breaststroke.

Rounding out the medal winners for the Express were Kevin Radvany, a junior at Hopewell Valley, who placed sixth in the open division of the 400 freestyle and seventh in the 200 individual medley. PHS sophomore Francis Franz placed eighth in the open division of the 200 backstroke.

ONE OF ELEVEN: Carol Ann Mazzella, pitcher for Steve Ficarro's Auto Body team, is about to score one of her team's eleven runs in its 11-0 victory over Roberts Landscaping. Mazzella pitched a two-hitter.

would continue the mid-section and link Route 1 with Route 206.

The NJDOT has confirmed that the Hightstown Bypass will be constructed. The 92 mid-section is being reviewed as a possible New Jersey Turnpike construction project.

However, in April, the DOT announced that because of numerous and costly environmental problems, it was planning to withdraw plans to build 92 West. The DOT invited local officials to develop an alternative alignment for this section by July 15.

Agreeing that there was a need for some type of regional road connecting Route 206 and Route 1, the mayors of the eight affected municipalities began meeting to work out an alternative to propose to the DOT by the July 15 deadline.

Same Corridor

The location of alternative 92-West is in the same "corridor" as the original route and is intended to serve the traffic needs of those traveling east to west through that corridor. To a considerable extent the preferred alternative alignment follows one of the original Route 92 alignments.

For most of its length, the scale of the proposed alternative has been reduced from four lanes to two 12-foot lanes with 10-foot shoulders. This would fit within a 150-foot strip of land, as opposed to the originally proposed 300-foot expressway right-of-way. The narrower cartway would avoid slope and wetlands problems along the Princeton-Montgomery border and would not conflict with the Autumn Hill Reservation, according to the supporting narrative.

There would be a signalized at-grade intersection at Bunn Drive and an unsignalized intersection, also at-grade, at Mt. Lucas Road. The alternative route would travel south of the Montgomery Woods development to a new crossing of the Millstone River just south of "Dirty Brook" Creek. There would be no intersection at River Road as the proposed road rises to span the Millstone.

In Franklin Township, several alternative routes could be developed, according to the narrative, depending on further environmental analysis. The preferred route would be south of the Superfund site, which the DOT considered the costliest and most difficult barrier to overcome in developing 92-West. The mayors' group is also suggesting two secondary alternatives through and around the Trap Rock Quarry, in case the preferred alternative has unresolvable problems.

FETE INTRODUCES RECYCLING: Since Mercer County has now introduced recycling for large groups, containers will be placed throughout the grounds at the Fete on Saturday. In charge of cleanup are Lindsay Fraser, left, and Caroline Angrisani. Sarah, center, and Elizabeth Angrisani are also helping.

Under the preferred alternative and one of the agreed alternatives, the road would arrive at Route 27 at Raymond Road, as it was originally proposed. From there it would continue to Route 1 on the original alignment.

South Brunswick has said it will accept a wider cartway for the proposed alternative between Route 27 and Route 1, so this section would be four-lanes — four 12-foot travel lanes with two 10-foot shoulders. South Brunswick also wants to make sure there is another alternative for Trap Rock trucks in addition to the new Route 522, which passes through a residential neighborhood.

By-passes Rocky Hill

Rocky Hill supports the alternative to 92-West as a necessary bypass of that municipality that would take traffic off congested Route 518 as it passes through the middle of town. Rocky Hill is a built-up historic district in which it would be impossible to expand the existing road.

Plainsboro also supports the proposed alignments and has indicated a willingness to create a local collector road through the Princeton Nurseries that will serve local and regional needs. This collector would have an intersection with the proposed alternative 92-West.

War Imagined: The First World War and English Culture. Samuel Hynes. Atheneum, $29.95.

Between the opulent Edwardian years and the 1920s, between the England of "Pomp and Circumstance" and the England of The Waste Land and The Green Hat, the First World War opens like a gap in history, separating one world of beliefs and values from another, changing not only the maps of Europe but also the ways in which men and women imagined reality itself. Central to this profound transformation is what Hynes calls the Myth of the War: the story of innocent, idealistic young men "slaughtered in stupid battles planned by stupid generals. Those who survived were shocked, disillusioned and embittered by their war experiences," and subsequently rejected their past and their entire cultural heritage.

A War Imagined, a book full of learning and humanity, joins two of Samuel Hynes's earlier works — The Edwardian Turn of Mind and The Auden Generation — to complete a sweeping and masterly study of the relationship of literature and the arts to the events of the first four decades of the 20th century.

Silvan S. Tomkins, one of the major theoreticians of 20th century psychology, died June 10 in Shore Memorial Hospital, the Elizabeth Nason Glinka Somers Point, a few days after his 80th birthday. He had been

Medical Center at Princeton undergoing treatment for lymphoma.

Born in Philadelphia, Dr. Tomkins lived in Princeton from 1947 to 1975. He earned all his academic degrees at the University of Pennsylvania, majoring in playwriting for his B.A., which he followed with an M.A. in psychology and a Ph.D. in philosophy. Dr. Tomkins returned to psychology while working at the Harvard Psychological Clinic under Henry Murray and Robert W. White.

He came to Princeton in 1947 as an assistant professor in the Psychology Department, rising to full professor before leaving to commute to teach at the Graduate Center of the City University of New York and later to Livingston College of Rutgers University. He also taught at the University of Pennsylvania.

In the area of psychological testing, Dr. Tomkins developed the Picture Arrangement Test and wrote, with his former wife Elizabeth J. Tomkins, what has become the standard manual for the Thematic Apperception Test (TAT). He is best known as the creator of Affect Theory, which explains all human motivation in terms of innate physiological mechanisms that produce emotion, and Script Theory, which provides a complete understanding of the human personality.

First formulated between 1955 and 1965, Dr. Tomkins' work was ahead of its time in breaking with psychoanalysis and behaviorism to emphasize the primacy of emotion and the nature of cognition. This work laid the foundations for the scientific study of human emotion. Other accomplishments include a comprehensive theory of ideology and a theory of cigarette addiction.

He received the Bruno Klopfer Distinguished Contribution Award of the Society for Personality Assessment, and the Distinguished Contribution Award of the Clinical Psychology division of the American Psychological Association. While at Princeton, he received a Career Investigator Award from the National Institutes of Health.

Memorial services will be at 1 p.m. Friday from the Sheldon-Kukuchka Funeral Home, 73 W. Tioga St., Tunkhannock, with Dr. John Marks of Princeton officiating.

Memorial donations, if desired, may be made to the Wyoming County Historical Society, Harrison Street, Tunkhannock 18657.

He was the author of the four-volume series Affect/Imagery/Consciousness. The first three volumes, which emerged in 1962, 1963 and 1991, present his theory of emotion. The final book, on the nature of mind and thinking, will appear in early 1992.

He is survived by a son, Mark, of Boston; two grandchildren; and two nephews.

A public memorial service will be held September 15 at the Institute of Pennsylvania Hospital in Philadelphia.

STOCKTON

This imposing Federal-style house sits on a small hill at the edge of Stockton Borough. Thoughtfully modernized by the owner for easy living, the warmth and atmosphere of an older home remain. A spacious two-story building at the back of the property is presently a print shop/graphic arts studio, but might be an antique shop, or an office for architects and engineers, etc. Add to this a spring-fed stream and waterfall bordered by wildflowers and perennials and you'll never want to leave home again! Shown by appointment only.

SOME REALTORS BRING BUYERS FROM AROUND THE CORNER...

We Bring Buyers From Around The World.

The more buyers who see your home, the greater your chances of selling it at the price you want. While all Realtors say they recognize that, not all of them are capable of doing something about it.

We are. We're supported by 41,000 active sales agents working in 1,900 offices throughout North America. And while many real estate offices have only loose affiliation with independent relocation companies, we're backed by two company-owned relocation companies. They're our link to buyers all over the world.

So if you're thinking of selling your home and want more buyers, call us at the number below. Our office is in Princeton, but we'll go to the end of the earth for you.

In compliance with a ruling of the State Supreme Court, all newspapers must ascertain that employment ads do not discriminate between sexes.

For example, titles such as "Salesman," "Nurse" and "Girl Friday" should be replaced respectively, by "Salesperson," "Nurse (M/F)" and "General Office Work M/F". TOWN TOPICS has a copy of the Division of Civil Rights booklet, "A Guide for Employers to the New Jersey Law Against Discrimination," and will provide assistance in the wording of all such ads upon request. Advertisers' cooperation is sought in meeting the requirements of the law.

We believe that academic excellence later in life is largely due to an enthusiasm for learning inspired during the early years when a child's motivation is high and his/her chances for success are good. Students in our program in no way leave childhood behind for the sole purpose of intellectual growth. Rather, they celebrate the special gifts of their age: curiosity, flexibility, spontaneity, will, and wonder.

We do not discriminate against race, color or creed.
